REPUBLICANS FAIL TO ENDORSE SLATE; FAVOR CHANGE OF OHIO PRIMARY LAW

"Justice Department Agents Spirited Away Means' Records"

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 21.—(By the Associated Press)—The senate judiciary committee was told today that representatives of the department of justice not only had sought to "frame" Senator Wheeler, its prosecutor, but had spirited away the records of the famous case of Gaston B. Means, working with it as an investigator.

One of the witnesses was W. O. Duckstein, who said he knew about the whole proceeding because his wife, is a secret agent of the department.

It was she, he said, who identified in his presence the records of Means, after they had been secured by a ruse.

Duckstein described an espionage system of great proportions, which he said, had been thrown about the committee's operation under the direction of H. C. Todd, special assistant to Attorney General Cummings. He said the "ruse of detectives" used in the case had come largely from New York under the direction of two men named Pettit and O'Brien. Their activities included wiretapping and many other methods of obtaining information.

The purpose of the "ruse" the witness declared, had been described by Pettit and O'Brien as including the "framing" of Senator Wheeler who has been indicted in Montana and the "railroading" of Means to the penitentiary.

Another witness, R. P. Burrus, a special department of justice agent, testified that he and five assistants had constituted the force, assigned to "shadow" Means.

Duckstein said it was Pettit and O'Brien who got the Means diaries, which the famous detective had declared would substantiate his stories about mean payments to Jess Smith.

The two men he said, called him and his wife out of their home at night, took them into an automobile, and opened three suit cases full of "little black books" which Mrs. Duckstein identified as the diaries and files of Means.

The committee pressed the witness to say why he had not reported the incident.

"I considered them as co-workers with my wife," Duckstein said. "Pettit and O'Brien said they were going to take the papers to Todd in New York."

"Why did you finally tell Means?" asked Senator Wheeler.

"I had to," Duckstein replied, explaining that Means had got some of the facts and was "getting my wife into it."

Mrs. Duckstein though employed directly under W. J. Burns, former head of the bureau of investigation, did not report the paper enterprise to her chief, he said, considering it a matter coming directly under the attorney general.

"Husband" Was Woman, Too!

For 15 months Bertha Jones (left) of Cleveland believed herself to be the wife of Harry Meyers. Her neighbors began to gossip, and Bertha learned her "husband" was a woman, too. And "Meyers" (right), now booked on the police blotter as Lillian Hoffman, was arrested on a suspicion charge. But she still wears her male attire. For 17 years Lillian has worked and dressed as a man, police say. At the time of her arrest she was employed in a cabinet factory. The two never lived together. Lillian contending her wages were not sufficient to keep them both. But Bertha received more than half of "husband's" pay each week. Now Bertha is pleading for Lillian's release.

EXPECTED TO RENEW FOSDICK DISPUTE

GRAND RAPIDS, MICH., May 21.—(By the Associated Press)—Nine hundred and sixty commissioners charged with disposal of temporal and doctrinal problems of a great Protestant denomination were assembling here for the 138th general assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America tomorrow.

One of the probable storm centers of the assembly—Dr. Harry Emerson Fosdick, of New York, will not attend the gathering, but his supporters and critics, the latter including William Jennings Bryan, are expected to renew the controversy that rocked last year's general assembly at Indianapolis. Fosdick's dispute grew from a sermon, "Shall the Fundamentalists Win?" delivered by Dr. Fosdick, who is an ordained Baptist minister of the pastorate of the First Presbyterian Church, New York.

Election of a moderator to succeed Dr. Charles Wishart, president of Wooster College, is the outstanding business of the opening day.

Right Of Women Sustained
SAN ANTONIO, TEXAS, May 21.—(By the Associated Press)—Right of women to a voice in the government of the Presbyterian Church in the United States and to serve on the executive committee is sustained by the sixty-fourth general assembly here.

Oppose To Modernists' Views
AUSTIN, TEXAS, May 21.—(By the Associated Press)—After adopting reports expressing unimpaired opposition to "so-called Liberalism as taught by self-styled modernists" and dealing with prohibition enforcement and Sunday observance, the ninety-fourth general assembly of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church adjourned late yesterday to meet the third day in May, 1934, in Nashville, Tenn.

The report of the committee on education dealt with the question of fundamentalism, briefly but strongly, reaffirming belief in the Virgin Birth of Christ and the origin of man as told in the Book of Genesis.

G. O. P. WOULD LEGALIZE ENDORSING OF SLATE

COLUMBUS, O., May 21.—(By the Associated Press)—The special state Republican convention today failed to endorse a candidate for governor and a slate of candidates for other state offices.

Instead of making endorsement, the convention went on record for amendment of the primary laws to legalize such endorsing pre-primary conventions and urging such a convention in 1936 whether the primary law has been so modified to legalize it or not.

Failure of the convention to make an endorsement of a candidate for governor leaves all candidates free to fight their battle on equal terms. Most of the gubernatorial candidates yesterday in addressing the convention urged against the convention making endorsements.

The rules committee, which was directed by its chairman, George B. Harris, of Cleveland, to have been in the majority in favor of a recommendation for endorsement, wrestled with the question most of last night and again this morning before reaching a decision not to recommend endorsement now, but provide for such action in the future. Chairman Harris said that the majority in the committee yielded on the question of the endorsement to present a united front.

Summit county, through G. W. Seiber, attempted to amend the resolution to prevent a pre-primary convention from being held and to urge the regular convention to recommend repeal of the primary provision of the constitution, but this was voted down.

Farm Relief Measure Is Again Sidetracked

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 21.—(By the Associated Press)—Discussion of the McNary-Haugen farm relief bill was sidetracked in the house today by an agreement for consideration of inter-revenue measures. The debate will be resumed tomorrow, however, under the program accepted late yesterday showing 15 hours for general discussion and calling for day and night sessions in an effort to get action by Saturday night or early next week despite the delay yesterday in making a start.

The bill received only brief discussion after it was reached yesterday afternoon.

Herriot May Be French Premier for Short Time But Will Be Succeeded by Briand

BY FRANK E. SIMONDS
(Special Dispatch to The Times)
(Copyright, 1934, by Times Pub. Co.)
WASHINGTON, May 21.—To understand the present confusion in the French political situation and the uncertainty as to the character of the next cabinet and the name of the new Premier, it is necessary to recall a moment at the chaotic condition which has resulted from the recent election. And, above all, it is necessary to appreciate the fact that under the Continental bloc system our own party methods are quite impossible.

Thus in the new Chamber of Deputies with 381 members no one party has anything like a majority. The bloc National which supported Poincaré and went to defeat will have something like 233 members. It is the official opposition and it is a fairly homogeneous body at the moment. In addition the Royalists or Conservatives elected upwards of 30 members and these would doubtless vote with the bloc National against any extreme radical government. Thus, at the out-

Thaw Again Under Bond

NEW YORK, May 21.—(By the Associated Press)—Harry K. Thaw, is held in bail again today after a few brief hours of absolute freedom. He pleaded not guilty yesterday to two indictments, charging him with kidnapping Frederick Gump, Jr., in 1916, and with second degree assault and was held in $1,000 bail.

Soon after he left the court another indictment charging conspiracy to take Gump, now 16 years old, out of the jurisdiction of the court after the alleged attack was discovered. Thaw returned and pleaded not guilty to this also. Bail will be adjusted today. This civil action in the Gump case was set out of court.

There were indications that Gump, who now is married and living in California, would not come here to testify against Thaw in which case it would be impossible to try the case.

Thaw recently was declared sane by a jury in Philadelphia after years of confinement in an asylum and was given his full liberty just before starting for New York to answer the Gump charges.

French Flyer May Continue His Trip

SHANGHAI, May 21.—(By the Associated Press)—Captain Pelletier, French aviator who damaged his plane yesterday in landing here, has overcome his disappointment at the interruption to his projected flight from Paris to Tokyo and is considering seriously the offer of a Chinese plane for continuation of his flight.

The offer was made yesterday by General Ho Feng-Ling, military governor of Shanghai. If Doisy accepts, he will proceed toward Tokyo within a week.

Conferees Agree On Tax Reduction Bill

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 21.—(By the Associated Press)—Unanimous agreement was reached today by the conferees on the tax reduction bill.

The Simmons Democratic income rate schedule providing for forty per cent maximum surtax rate and a fifty per cent reduction in normal taxes on incomes under $8,000 was accepted.

Senate amendments providing for full publicity of tax returns and a tax on undistributed corporate profits were rejected.

The house provisions for a forty per cent increase in existing estate tax rates and for the imposition of a gift tax with rates similar to the estate tax rates were accepted.

Senate Democrats, in yielding their proposal for a substitute corporation tax and full publicity of tax returns, explained that they did so in expectation that the bill would not be objectionable to President Coolidge.

Although the Democratic income tax schedule was accepted, Republicans said it varied but little from the Longworth compromise approved by House Republicans.

The report was not expected to get before either the senate or house for approval today. Republican insurgents have indicated they will demand separate votes on the full publicity and corporation tax amendments which were snafu.

Hope was expressed by senate Republican organization leaders that the bill as now framed would meet the approval of President Coolidge, who has declared opposition to both the publicity and corporation proposals which were eliminated.

The provision for a 25 per cent reduction on earned incomes was retained but the senate amendment restricting the amount to which this cut could be applied to $10,000 was accepted.

A compromise was reached on a cut in the luxury tax. All articles selling for $20 or less were exempted from the five per cent tax. The house had set this limit at $40 and the senate at $25.

Senate proposal to exempt produce and merchandise brokers from the brokers' tax and to restore the full levy on lawyers and pool players and howling dogs were approved.

The treasury proposal to limit deductions on account of capital losses to 12 1/2 per cent was restored to the bill by demand of house conferees. Secretary Mellon has estimated it would increase returns in revenue by $25,000,000 annually.

Chairman Smoot of the senate finance committee estimated the bill would $100,000,000 below the treasury surplus available for tax reduction. This did not take into account the cost of the bonus bill which it has been estimated will require an appropriation of $150,000,000 for the next fiscal year or other pending measures calling for special appropriations.

Wild West Show Results In Death
AKRON—Following death of John Henzel, 13, from wounds received while playing wild west ten days ago, charge of manslaughter was lodged against Walter Kasburg, 19. Five other boys are held as material witnesses. Kasburg is alleged to have fired at him and then shot him. Only blank cartridges were used, but lockjaw developed from a slight flesh wound and death followed.

Paternal Jealousy Cause of Man Assaulting His Child

DAYTON, O., May 21.—(By the Associated Press)—Paternal jealousy was the explanation given by Earl C. Clarkson, 22, when he was arraigned this morning before Squire Bert Bagley, accused of striking his eight months old daughter until her face was black and blue, then tying her to a chair, with a rope that partly suffocated her. Clarkson was bound over to juvenile court.

Deputy sheriffs found the baby about 10 o'clock last night in the garage home of the Clarkson's just outside the city limits, bound with a rope. The parents were in bed a few feet away.

The mother, Mrs. Rosalie Clarkson, 19, had been kept in fear of her life, she says and could not free the baby of the rope her husband had placed around it. Neighbors said Clarkson had been making threats against a number of nearby residents for alleged interference with his domestic affairs.

"The deputies found the infant slowly choking to death with a strand of rope drawn with suffocating tightness around its neck and body and the ends tied to a chair. The complaint came by telephone to the jail from neighbors."

"Whenever I picked up the baby or took it from its mother, it would cry and stretch out its hands to her," Clarkson said. "It wouldn't let me still, but kept trying to raise up. That's why I tied it down."

Question of Tax Reduction and Business Generally Affected By Passage of Soldier Bonus Bill

(BY DAVID LAWRENCE)
(Copyright, 1933)
WASHINGTON, May 21.—Congress having disposed finally of the principle that a bonus is due the ex-service men of the World War, the next turn in the tide of events is to the economic situation which must result from such a policy.

Will tax reduction be imperilled? Will business generally be affected? The administration is not yet prepared to answer those questions, but if no more appropriations are made the outlook will not be discouraging.

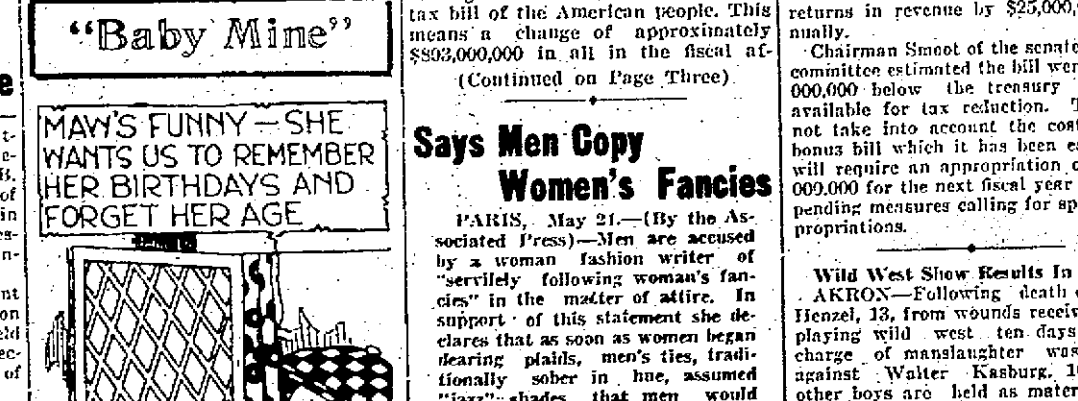

In other words, the bonus is just one of a number of things which the administration has opposed in connection with its drive for economy. Here is the outline of approximate costs:

Bonus pension bill, $53,000,000.
Postal bill, $100,000,000.
McNary-Haugen bill, $200,000,000.
Soldier bonus, $175,000,000.
Totals, $428,000,000.

The whole program of tax revision has been predicted on the idea of cutting about $100,000,000 from the tax bill of the American people. This means a change of approximately $200,000,000 in all in the fiscal year.

McCann, publisher.

Couple Quarrel, Woman Swallows Poison; Will Recover

Mrs. Helen Flowers, 16, and mother of an 11-month-old daughter, made an unsuccessful attempt to commit suicide about four o'clock Tuesday afternoon at her home in New Boston, when she drained the contents of a bottle containing a concentrated anti-septic, made up largely of crude carbolic acid.

The husband, Raymond Flowers, was at home at the time, and his quick action in calling in neighbors who administered first aid, probably saved the young woman's life. Later after removal to Schirman hospital, a stomach pump was used and it is thought that most of the poisonous fluid was removed before it caused any great injury. Today her condition was reported much better and it is thought she will get along nicely.

A domestic argument preceded the suicidal attempt, according to New Boston officers, who investigated the affair. They claim the young couple had a quarrel, which was followed very soon thereafter by the young woman drinking the liquid, which she hoped would cause her death.

The husband discovered his wife's plight just a few seconds after she had drained the bottle and he called in Mrs. John Lilly, who resides downstairs in the house, where Mr. and Mrs. Flowers and baby daughter live, in the rear of 3735 Rhodes avenue.

Mrs. Lilly gave Mrs. Flowers a solution of sweet milk and salt which acted as an emetic and relieved the stomach of some of the poison. Other emetics were administered, while Dr. Harold Schirman was summoned. He had the young woman removed to the hospital for treatment.

Mrs. Flowers' lips and throat were burned by the acid, the poisonous solution containing a large per cent of this poison. The nature of the burns show the strong carbolic content of the liquid.

Mrs. J. M. Lockwood, of 2733 Rhodes avenue, from whom the Flowers family rent their home, had also been summoned, and was asked to take care of Mrs. Flowers' 11-month-old daughter while she is at the hospital. The daughter, Vada

Francis, was kept at the Lockwood home last night.

Mrs. Flowers was before her marriage written complaint filed in Huntington, West Va. The husband about 20 years old. The couple have been married for somewhat less than two years, and have been keeping house at the Rhodes avenue address for more than a year.

Discussion of the possibility of the village seeking recovery of funds collected by the city of Portsmouth for water main taps and a report from the Ordinance Committee that they were opposed to any change in the ordinance prohibiting street fairs and carnivals in the village featured last night's session of New Boston Council.

New Boston Council Planning to Recover Funds Collected by This City for Water Main Taps

Discussion of the possibility of the village seeking recovery of funds collected by the city of Portsmouth for water main taps and a report from the Ordinance Committee that they were opposed to any change in the ordinance prohibiting street fairs and carnivals in the village featured last night's session of New Boston Council.

Mayor Vernon Brierley and Village Solicitor Harry Hall brought the water main collection matter before Council. Solicitor Hall reported that during the past two years the city has been collecting $2 each time a tap is made on one of the lateral mains laid in the village by the village.

His opinion is that money for these taps belongs in the village treasury. Solicitor Hall was ordered to take the matter up with the city officials.

Mayor Brierley and Solicitor Hall stated last night that no estimate could be made of the amount of money the city has collected in this manner during the past several years or since New Boston has been using water supplied by the city water works.

Dr. J. H. McCann, chairman of the ordinance committee, reported back on the matter of revising the ordinance relating to street fairs, which at present are barred from the village under present statutes. He stated that his committee disapproved any change in the present ordinance. Other members of the committee are W. J. Davis and Earl Wolfe.

An ordinance was passed, authorizing Harvey W. Runk to erect a filling station on his property at 921 Harrisonville avenue.

The Portsmouth Public Service Co. presented a petition, asking that a water main be extended to the power plant, and that a fire hydrant be installed at that point. The council determined to grant the requested relief, and an estimate will be brought in by the Engineer.

The Engineer was instructed to confer with Portsmouth officials in the matter of constructing a sewer to care for North Moreland sewage.

Member Walter Dickey of the Portsmouth council and chairman of its street committee, was before the meeting to advise that Portsmouth would be willing to effect arrangements for joint construction of the sewer.

Patrolman Flowers Will Carry His Suspension to Civil Service Commission; Promises Real "Fireworks"

Suspension of Patrolman Charles "Poser" Flowers by Chief Home Arthur on an alleged charge of sleeping on duty was upheld late yesterday afternoon by Safety Director George Koerner following a hearing held at the mayor's office, at which time Officer Flowers entered a plea of not guilty to the complaint filed by the Chief. Action yesterday was merely a step necessary so that the suspended officer could get his case before the Civil Service Commission. Safety Director Koerner upheld the suspension action of the Chief until final disposition is made of the case by the commission.

Officer Flowers had to appeal from the decision of the police chief to the safety director before he could present the case before the commission. He now has five days in which to file an appeal from the decision of the safety director with the civil service commission. He has retained Attorney Edgar Miller.

Introduction of witnesses to offer testimony in support of the chief's charge was unnecessary yesterday when the suspended officer said that it was all right with him to postpone introduction of evidence until the case comes before the commission, which he will have witnesses present to support his claim that the charge against him is unjustified.

Before the opening of the hearing "Poser" said that he wanted it understood he was not seeking reinstatement but wanted merely to clear his record. "I am going through with this just to show up some of the other boys," said "Poser" before the hearing, was snarled. At the close of the hearing, he stated that he was a taxpayer and had the right to file charges himself and would not stop with clearing his own name. He intimated that he knew of other officers who were not attending to their jobs when suspended to be on duty and said that one or two he knew of spent some time in playing checkers while on duty.

"There is going to be plenty of fireworks before this is all over," he said on leaving the police station.

Safety Director Koerner after reading a written complaint against Flowers filed with him by the chief asked Chief Arthur to state the facts in the case.

Chief Arthur's story was as follows: "For some time I have had reports of sleeping going on. First the report came in letters and they were followed by personal notices. The morning this happened I called Captain Startzman and asked him to come to my home. He was not at the police station at the time but received the order and then came out to the house. We went several places in the East End and finally went to the furniture factory. We could not see anyone stirring around so went in on the Seventh street side. A dog started barking, but we kept right ahead and walked across the first room into the engine room. "Poser" was sitting there and at once remarked: "I guess you've caught me this time. When I asked him how long he had been there he replied about twenty minutes. He then asked me if I wanted his badge and I said I did, and he handed it to me and about that time Officer Gee walked in and then "Poser" asked "Why don't you get him too?" I replied that I had not caught him asleep. We then walked outside and "Poser" asked me for another chance. I told him the matter was up to the mayor and safety director as it was not for me to say."

Mr. Koerner then said that this is the sum and substance of the charges. "Do you plead guilty or not guilty?" to which Officer Flowers replied "not guilty."

Safety Director Koerner then explained to Flowers that he would hold the suspension over his head and that his course of action now would be to appeal to the Civil Service Commission, the suspension to hold good until the commission disposed of the case.

Conflicting Death Certificates Offered In Turf Man's Trial

AKRON, O., May 21.—Taking of testimony in the trial of Marian Webb, Clinton, Mo., horse trainer, charged with the first degree murder of Racing Judge Fred W. Giffard, Detroit, was started today. Coroner M. B. Crafts was questioned for five hours as to whether death resulted from bullet wounds or from natural cause.

The question arose when two alleged death certificates were submitted. One bearing the seal of the state gives the cause of death as "bullet wound by firearm," contributing cause, "hemorrhage."

The other, introduced by the defense, obtained from the city registrar of vital statistics, names the contributory cause as "palsy."

President Has Not Changed Views On World Court Policy

WASHINGTON, May 21.—Republican members of the senate foreign relations committee were told by President Coolidge at the White House conference tonight that his position with reference to the World Court question was the same as indicated in his message on the subject, and in various statements since made.

The committee members, who were headed by Chairman Lodge, it was said, would attempt to formulate a plan which would be in harmony with the president's position. The conference was described as primarily for the purpose of ascertaining ways and means of giving effect to the president's recognition for American adherence to the permanent court of international justice.

Fight Renewed In Senate On Members Of Farm Loan Board

WASHINGTON, May 21.—The fight against the nominations of members of the federal farm loan board by the late President Harding was renewed today by Senator Howell, Republican, Nebraska, this time on the line of the senate after the nominations had been favorably reported by the banking committee.

Entering a series of charges involving the conduct of the board and declaring the question had arisen as to whether the "senate" could afford to put its stamp of approval on the "board's" administration adopted by the board, the Nebraska senator, in the case of C. T. Richmond against the Globe and Rutgers Fire Insurance Company.

Richmond brought suit against the company to collect on a policy issued on five cases of liquor which he had shipped from Ohio to California, with his household effects. The cases reached Los Angeles last without the liquor.

set it would be fair to assume that the opposition could count upon approximately 230 votes, leaving 331 for the groups which together must make the new government.

But of these 331 only 100, namely the Radicals and the Republican Socialists with 151 and 39 seats respectively, could easily coalesce. The Radicals are led by Herriot, just now most prominent of all as the next Premier while to the other group belong both Briand and Painlevé, the former many times Prime Minister, the latter once and disastrously during the World War.

In addition there are the Socialists, led by Blum, who count 102 seats but are pledged against taking office. This Socialist party in combination with the Radicals and the Republican Socialists constituted the Bloc of the Left, which united successfully to defeat Poincaré, but having absolutely nothing in common in the way of an affirmative program. Finally there are 29 out and out Communists, also opponents of any conceivable government.

Now if Herriot, for example, formed a government, he would certainly be opposed by both the Radicals and the Bloc National; that is the whole of the possible opposition. He could count on 151 votes from his own Radical party, but he could not even hope to form a cabinet unless he were assured the support of the Socialists, who count 102 members. But this combination alone would be approximately of the same strength as the opposition. In point of fact it would be helpless unless supported by the Republican Socialists, that is the Briand-Painlevé Bloc with 39 votes.

Such a combination would almost certainly be opposed by the Communists and thus a three party combination of Radicals, Socialists and Republican Socialists, counting at most 292 members would face a minority combination of Radicals, Communists and Bloc National of practically the same strength, namely 292. Herriot, in practice, then, could only form a cabinet which would have any chance of lasting if he was able to draw strength from the Bloc National. And at best his majority would be precarious in the extreme.

Briand's situation, on the contrary, is quite different. On the surface he would seem to have only 39 sure votes, but, once Poincaré had disappeared it is almost certain that a very large part of the Bloc National would, on terms, agree to support a Briand Cabinet, seeing in Briand a much more satisfactory Premier. Moreover, what is most likely to happen is that Herriot will form a Cabinet, perhaps last for a few weeks or even months and then give way to Briand.

Since Poincaré is going into retirement the disintegration of the Bloc National is almost inevitable. But to replace it one may expect at no distant date some combination of the moderate Radicals and the Republican Socialists to face the real radical elements which are the Socialists and the Communists, although the Socialists are very far from being radicals in the extreme American sense.

The demand for the resignation of Briand follows logically upon the fact that the President of the Republic has from the outset undertaken to interfere directly with public questions and has not only backed Poincaré but more than once pushed him into actions more extreme than he might otherwise have taken. Briand, moreover, is infinitely more conservative than Poincaré.

The probability that Briand will come relatively quickly grows out of the fact that he is felt in France to be, on the whole, the man best qualified to carry on a foreign negotiation, particularly with Britain. He is unlike Poincaré, a man with very limited knowledge of public questions, but with amazing dexterity. Clemenceau's bitter characterization of Poincaré and Briand has frequently been recalled recently. The "Tiger" said:

"Poincaré is a man who knows everything and can do nothing. Briand is a man who knows nothing and can do everything."

Real manoeuvre now is obviously to win over to himself the largest part of the strength of the disintegrating Bloc National. He would be far more moderate in temper than Poincaré but in the whole much more conservative than Herriot. In this way he might create a new Bloc, that is a middle or moderate group, corresponding to Lloyd George's old dream of a center party in Britain. Meantime, since he is an admirable waiter, he may very well let Herriot have his fling, which must be brief.

Whether Herriot or Briand comes, French foreign policy will now be more conciliatory to one, although it may be doubted if there will be any sweeping modification of French demands. A combination Herriot-Briand Ministry is even conceivable, with Briand in charge of foreign affairs. But in any event what is certain is that the next French Cabinet will proceed to a discussion of the Daves Report and seek a restoration of the Anglo-French entente. Should Herriot come, it is also very likely that some conciliatory gestures will be made in the direction of Germany.

Herriot's radical party is the party of Caillaux who always favored Franco-German co-operation and looked with something like hostility at Great Britain. Briand, on the contrary followed the Clemenceau view of Anglo-French co-operation, while Poincaré partly by reason of the course of events, partly because of personal gloves, aimed to give France an independent role, while drawing to her the minor states in the center of Europe which shared French dangers on the German side.

Accepting the fact, which has been generally noted, that the French situation represents a gain for the cause of European settlement, it must still be recognized that the character of party lines in the new Chamber makes for much obscurity and not a little insecurity. Once more as at Cannes, when Briand fell, a change of government is possible at almost any moment. This is unmistakably a French return to normalcy, but hardly to the British counterpart which is tranquillity.

fairs of the government or nearly a billion dollars. It is obviously impossible to reduce taxes by $400,000,000 and then turn around and spend about $400,000,000. That is the answer in a nut shell to the question of whether the tax program is now in danger. And by just as much the answer to the question of whether business will be affected. Indeed, if there is no tax reduction at all, there are those who feel that business conditions can not be adversely affected any more than they have been under the present revenue act and that the tax proposals of the present year simply would have improved the economic condition of the country. It would be to maintain the status quo without change in either direction, unless a stimulus should come from a settlement of European problems.

This is the way the conservative element in the Washington government looks at the situation.

But the chances are that all of the $400,000,000 outlined above will not be spent. At present the Bureau bill has been killed by Presidential veto which was sustained by Congress. The McNary-Haugen bill may suffer the same fate and there is likelihood that the postal appropriation bill will not be as big as was calculated at first. All this should permit of some tax reduction in the end but not as big a sum as Secretary Mellon estimated would be possible when he laid before the country his original proposals which did not contemplate a bonus or any of the other items mentioned in the table given above.

Of the total sum which can be cut in taxes, it will matter considerably of course to taxpayers of small-sized incomes whether the larger part of the reduction is given to them or to the persons of larger incomes. The contest on tax schedules hinges on the number of taxpayers whose bills will be given the greater cut, but the lump sum which can be cut from the entire tax bill has been definitely affected by the passage of the soldier bonus bill. America can't have its cake and eat it, too—that's the sentiment expressed by the Treasury as it comes now with a revised tax not taken into account when the tax bills were passed through both houses of Congress.

When the tax bill emerges from conference it will have to stand the test of the advocates as to whether it will produce the needed revenues including the soldier bonus. The estimates vary and it is of course impossible at the moment to tell what kind of bill will come out of conference. Some of the serious and extreme cuts in taxes will no doubt be abandoned and more attention will be given to productive rather than to getting taxes. Otherwise the bill will be vetoed.

Speaking of vetoes, the White House is likely to send a veto to Congress on the immigration bill, which, however, has not enough support to become a law over a veto in which case a resolution extending the present act for a year would be passed. The President is not disturbed over the very low chances of Congress having thwarted his wishes on the bonus. He is learning something new every day—and one thing he has been taught by this experience is that the time to influence individual Senators and Representatives is not after a veto message has been sent them, but before they actually commit themselves on the original vote for first passage.

POLICE NEWS

Evidence in the case of Foto Anton, 31, charged with disorderly conduct, was heard by Judge Sprague in Municipal court yesterday and then continued for further investigation.

The charge against Anton, the hearing developed, grew out of a clash with Patrolman Frazier at the White Front restaurant, Gallia street, late on the night of May 15, when the officer entered the restaurant and took Anton to task for alleged insulting two women, Miss Ruth Hanse and a Mrs. Denny by asking them personal questions concerning themselves while they were in the restaurant, a short time before the trouble.

Officer Frazier said the women complained to him of Anton questioning them while they were in the restaurant and of two men in an automobile following them to their home on John street when they left the eating place. Frazier stated that when he told Anton he had no right to question women patrons in such a way, the latter insisted that he had started cursing him. When the officer admitted he slapped the defendant and placed him under arrest.

While Miss Hanse and Mrs. Denny said they resented Anton's rather personal questions while they were in the place, both stated he said nothing disrespectful to them. While in the restaurant, they said, Anton called their attention to the honking of the horn by the men in the auto outside and that they informed him the honking was not for them. They then told of the men following them as they left the restaurant and of higher a flower pot at one of the fellows when he followed them into the porch of their home, of later telling Mr. Denny of the incident and of going back to the restaurant in an effort to learn the identity of the two men in the automobile, whom Anton claimed he did not know.

The accused, who was defended by Attorney H. J. Small, disclaimed any intention of disrespect to the two women customers and complained of the ill treatment given him by the officer. He said that he quickly apologized when the two women seemed to resent his intimation that the honking of the auto horn was intended for them.

John "Bub" Davis was adjudged guilty of intoxication and disorderly conduct yesterday and Judge Sprague fined him $50 and ordered him to be in jail, but the court suspended both in order to give Davis a chance to carry out his announced intention of going to work and "cut the loose stuff."

The court, however, scored Davis for his conduct, especially following his arrest last Sunday after some disorderly conduct on Walker street, near Eleventh, and the accused shot back again under penalty of spending some time over at the institution at Seventh and Court streets.

Davis, who just arrived home Saturday night from a sojourn of 8 months in Cincinnati, denied that he had been drinking or that he was disorderly, but the evidence adduced was against him.

Roy Fisher, 21, former railroad switchman, was before Judge Sprague in Municipal court yesterday to answer a complaint charging him with non-support of his infant child.

Fisher told the court that he had been unable to obtain employment since being laid off at the N. & W. some six weeks ago and after hearing his story Judge Sprague granted him an adjournment to the child's support. The complaint was filed by the defendant's wife, Mrs. Anna Fisher, 331 Eleventh street, who was also present, and the court advised the young couple to their marital relations and be happy.

Dubus Ode was adjudged guilty of speeding at a hearing in Municipal court yesterday and he was fined $10 and costs by Judge Sprague, besides his right to drive was suspended for 30 days.

About two hundred members were present and a large number of out-of-town visitors including members from the Chapters in Waverly, Chillicothe, Circleville, Hyde Park, Loveland and Huntington, W. Va. After inspecting the work, the Deputy Grand Matron expressed pleasure at the manner in which the local chapter put on the degree and complimented the officers and members on their work. The only number given was a solo by Mrs. Johnston, who sang "The Star Spangled Banner." THANK YOU!

Yes, a thousand sincere thanks to all Portsmouth..... to all southern Ohio and our friends in Kentucky

...Greatest emotions bring forth simplest speech.

...Full sincerity is spoken in few words.

...And yet at this hour of overwhelming public interest in the New Marting's, even few and sincere words are so feeble, so wholly adequate to express our full depth of gratitude.

...Truly all Portsmouth has taken the big new store to her heart.

...And one's emotions creep down to palsy the writing hand. But what could we write or what could be said, that would half express the feelings, deep within us, toward all the people of Portsmouth and nearby communities who are honoring us with their presence?

...To our hundreds of new friends—

...To our treasured old acquaintances—

...To every man, woman and child in Portsmouth—

...To Portsmouth merchants, our esteemed business brothers — who have so nobly wished us well —

...To Portsmouth's aggressive newspapers and civic organizations who have encouraged us with personal and memorable tributes —

MARTING BROS. OPENING CLOSES WITH LIVING MODEL SHOW

Many Beautiful Gowns Are Strikingly Displayed by Models

A living model show, so delightful to the feminine eye, was brought to a successful termination at the opening of The Marting Bros. Company's new and great store. It was an unqualified success from every angle and the members of the company naturally feel elated over the many complimentary remarks they heard relative to the elegance of the store as well as its completeness.

From the time that the doors were thrown open at seven o'clock, until they closed at nine, folks interested in the growth of one of Portsmouth's outstanding concerns thronged through the various departments intent upon the delightful displays of novelties, fabrics, clothing, art-goods and house furnishings. Many were the floral gifts, made tribute to the Marting Bros. company upon the occasion of the happiest event of their existence.

The strains of an orchestra led people to the style show. Upon the appearance of a beautiful girl in a smart riding outfit, one could hear the wave of admiring comments. This was a costume most becoming, including linen riding breeches, scarlet jacket over white blouse, black sailor, brown leather shoes and puttees and riding crop. Following her was a tan whipcord riding outfit with tan straw sailor, brown puttees and shoes. A tennis girl came next in an appropriate costume of linen knickerbockers, jacket of green flannel with green hat and green socks and oxfords. Each costume was displayed with the ease and grace of those who are professional models. A golf outfit caught the eyes of those who have taken up the sport, and the costume was one to induce most anyone to the out-of-doors. A tan Norfolk knicker suit of English tweed with brown and tan accessories would prove most becoming to most types. The black and white combination, so popular this year was worn becomingly by another young woman who wore one of the sports outfits of crepe-de-chine. Another winning comment of admiration was of white crepe de chine with fine knife-pleated skirt and scarf with scarlet hands and pockets. A large hat of white crepe de chine with hose and slippers of white completed the attire. Afternoon frocks were displayed that would please the most fastidious. Velvet and silk crepes embroidered and fashioned on straight simple lines, will no doubt prove to be much worn by Missy this summer.

One of the most striking costumes included a flame colored frock with similar outfit of canary yellow was cape and small hat to match. Linens in yellow, blues and browns, in the jacquette design, and some of raffine caught the woman's eye for street wear.

One of the "Frenchiest" dresses worn, was beautifully fashioned of cream lace and net over French blue satin. A picture hat of lace was brimmed type would naturally add a becoming accessory. The girl of pure a frock of embroidered peach georgette and hat and hose to match. It fairly breathed of summer and garden parties. White silk fabrics used in many ways, were shown, particularly well in the fine knife pleated skirts with low waistline and short sleeved blouses. Hats will be large and small and the girl with bobbed hair may well wear a larger model with comfort now, since the milliners are forced to fashion the crowns to cater to the popular coiffure. The smaller hats were shown with the sports outfits while the larger hats were more attractive with the afternoon and evening costumes.

Those whose grace and beauty helped in making the affair so complete a success were, Madeline McGuigan, Irma Jewett, Martha Burkhardt, Georgia Chambers, Alice Coombes, Edna Wallace, Ruth Stansborn, Bea Atkinson and Martha Mackey.

STIRLING WINS DECISION

ATLANTA, GA., May 21.—W. L. (Young) Stirling, the Georgia school boy sensation, won the decision over Dan O'Dowd, light heavyweight in a ten round bout here last night. The fight was slow and uninteresting with Stirling pushing his opponent most of the way.

Progress of Nation Measured By Improvement in Its Homes Says U. S. Specialist in Housing

Wholesome homes are a primary source of strong individual character and of national progress. Because of this, the Better Home movement is trying to reach every American family, paying particular attention this year to families of moderate means, and extending the educational benefits of the campaign to the rural sections of the country. Dr. John M. Gies, chief of the Division of Building and Housing of the U. S. Department of Commerce, and a director of the Better Homes organization, says on this subject:

"A nation's progress can be measured by the improvement it makes in its homes, for the homes are the visible and enduring product of the efforts of its people, and from them come the men and women who make the nation. Hence the better the home the better should be our future citizens. 'Better Homes' does not mean merely better built houses, but it means better design, better equipment, better light and air, and more comfort—a place where the family has every opportunity for developing its best qualities. We all want better homes, but some do not know how to make them, and others think they cannot afford them. The Better Homes movement helps communities to find out and to demonstrate what constitutes a good home, and how a commonplace house can be made into a better home at a minimum expense."

Mrs. Charles Schuttler, a member of the Advisory Council of Better Homes in America, formerly was chairman of the Women's Division of the Federation of Farm and Home Bureaus. Mrs. Schuttler says:

"The American Farm Bureau Federation and the American Country Life Association both are vitally interested in seeing the farm home approach the ideal of prosperity, peace and stability that it must attain to make it attractive to the type of people that our country needs on its farms. That is the source of our deep interest in the Better Homes movement."

Locally The Sam'l Horchow Company has, in connection with Marting Bros. Co., furnished and decorated two homes which are open to the public daily between the hours of two and five and six-thirty and nine-thirty. The public is cordially invited to visit Horchow's Better Homes, one—the J. F. Taylor home at 22nd and Waller; the other a specially built home by Alan Jordan, on Sunrise Avenue, that they may see the latest developments in home furnishings and decorating.

IRONTON, O., May 21—John Massie plead guilty to possessing liquor when arraigned before Judge Layne Tuesday and his case was passed for sentence until May 31st. Ancient Volcano in New Mexico Belching Flames and Smoke

WALSBERG, COLO., May 21.—(By the Associated Press)—Flames and smoke are belching from the crater of a volcano supposedly extinct for centuries near the Colorado line in New Mexico, according to automobile travelers reaching here from the south.

The eruption is said to be from a cone near the Raton Pass. The travelers did not go near enough to ascertain whether lava or ash was being thrown from the old crater, but declared smoke was issuing from a fissure in the ground near Fosom, N. M.

The mountain country of Northern Mexico is largely volcanic with numerous lava beds and blackened craters, but there are no records of eruptions since white men have lived in the district.

Pleaded Guilty But Seeks New Trial

COVINGTON, KY., May 21.—(By the Associated Press)—Attorneys representing M. E. Huth, Alliance, and W. B. Carey, Canton, who pleaded guilty to the charge of conspiracy to defraud the government and were sentenced to serve two years' imprisonment in federal court here two weeks ago, late yesterday filed a motion for a new trial for their clients.

Huth and Carey were indicted with Congressman John W. Langley, Kentucky, and Milton Lipschutz and Albert Slater, Philadelphia. Langley and Lipschutz were found guilty by a jury which disagreed as to Slater. Huth and Carey pleaded guilty after the taking of testimony was begun.

The men were indicted for defrauding the government in the removal of 1,400 cases of whiskey from a Kentucky distillery. Langley and Lipschutz have filed notice of appeal.

When Carey and Huth pleaded guilty, they were given ten days' respite in order that their counsel could be present in court. After the motion for a new trial was filed, Judge Cochran permitted the release of Huth and Carey on bonds of $5,000 each, pending a decision on the motion.

It was the belief of officials that no action would be taken regarding Huth and Carey until the higher court passed on the Langley and Lipschutz appeals.

Ohio First To Raise Over Half Missionary Funds For Year's Work

ASHLAND, O., May 21.—Ohio was the first state in the union to report raising more than half of the missionary funds for the year. Mrs. A. B. Atwater, St. Louis, vice president of the United Christian Missionary Society, declared here today at the annual state convention of the Disciples of Christ in Ohio.

Missionary work of the church has been halted, she said, because of lack of necessary equipment and buildings. Mrs. C. M. Shooka, Cleveland, was re-elected president of the Ohio Christian Women's Missionary society, and Miss Mary A. Lyon, Cleveland, general secretary.

Healthy Women, Happy Homes
Good dispositions succumb. Irritability and snappy retort take the place of happiness and amiability. Sunshine is driven out of homes, in fact, they are often wrecked, and friends are estranged because women suffer with ailments peculiar to their sex. The use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will overcome such ailments and restore health and happiness. Do not resort to strong stimulants or narcotics when this great strengthening, healing remedy made from roots and herbs is always within reach.—Advertisement.

Episcopalians Vote Down Equal Rights For Women In Church

GARDEN CITY, N. Y., May 21.—Delegates to the diocesan convention of the Protestant Episcopal church of Long Island today defeated a resolution declaring that the women of the church should have equal representation with the men in its councils.

The resolution, was beaten by a vote of 104 to 49.

Bishop Frederick Burgess, head of the diocese, said that heresy trial had become as "extinct as witchcraft and astrology."

"While I know that a trial of a bishop has been scheduled," he said, in speaking of the meeting of the House of Bishops at Dallas last November, "yet I think I speak the truth when I say that heresy trials have become as extinct as witchcraft and astrology."

Gen. Sherwood Scores Coolidge's Veto Of Bursum Pension Bill

WASHINGTON, May 21.—President Coolidge's veto of the Bursum pension bill was criticized in the house today by Representative Sherwood, Democrat, Ohio, a Civil War veteran, who declared that in view of the flaming record of extravagance and waste in the army and navy appropriation, the president's claim of economy is a false pretense and a cruel deceit.

Mr. Sherwood asserted that "this is the first time since George Washington that any president has classed pension legislation for soldiers as class legislation."

The Cape Cod canal project, however, Mr. Sherwood added, is a "pious illustration of class legislation as the kind of economy we are now realizing."

SALESMAN INJURED AT TERMINALS; MAY DIE

John Sager, a representative of the American Water Softener company, whose home is in Columbus, was found lying unconscious along side of the tracks in the south side of the N. & W. yards this afternoon. It is not known how he was injured, but it is believed a switch engine struck him.

After receiving first aid in the N. & W. Y. M. C. A. in East Portsmouth, Lynn's ambulance removed Sager to Hempstead hospital. There it was stated that his condition was serious as an examination showed that he had suffered a fractured skull.

Officials of the N. & W. have already started an investigation to learn just how Sager was injured. Relatives in Columbus had been notified about the seriousness of his condition.

The American Water Softener company is putting in a new plant at the terminals and it is presumed that Sager was headed for it when struck by an engine or possibly a car.

Mrs. Nellie B. Ashley Is Bound Over; Grand Jury May Investigate Statements

When Nellie B. Ashley, 45 years old, of 308 Madison street, arrested on a charge of malpractice in connection with alleged criminal operations, appeared in Municipal court Wednesday afternoon she entered a plea of guilty and Judge Sprague bound her over to the grand jury under $1,000 bond.

In a statement to the court Mrs. Ashley involved others, including a couple of local mechanics in connection with alleged criminal operations, and declared that she had performed similar operations. The disclosures she made will probably be made the subject of a searching investigation by the grand jury now in session, it was indicated.

Mrs. Ashley was detained until friends whom she expected to sign her bond appeared.

Charges Farm Loan Board Maintained a Slush Fund

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 21.—(By The Associated Press)—An account maintained by former Chairman Charles E. Lohbell, of the farm loan board, in a local bank, "was used at times" as a slush fund, Senator Howell, Republican, Nebraska, charged in the senate in continuing his opposition to confirmation of four pending nominations to the board. Senator Howell explained that by a slush fund, he meant a fund used to grease the wheels so as to smooth things, a fund expended when wanted to be generous with those who could be helpful to your objects. "I hold such action should be severely condemned when taken by any government instrumentality." Senator Howell obtained the floor as soon as the senate convened and resumed his elaboration of criticism enumerated yesterday against the board. Selection of Mr. Lohbell as fiscal agent with a salary of $25,000, loose handling of public money and misapplication of funds were included in the charges filed. A favorable report had been made by the senate banking committee on all four of the nominees, who are Lewis J. Pettigrew, Kansas; Elmer S. Landes, Ohio; Morton L. Carey, Nebraska; and Edward B. Jones, Pennsylvania.

Warrant Is Issued Following Statement Made by Girl

A warrant charging William Hamm, aged 40, who resides on Tenth street near Washington, with attempted assault, has been issued in Municipal court, and police are making a vigorous effort to locate Hamm, who has a wife and two children. The affidavit upon which the warrant was issued was signed by Clyde Hendren, of 916 Court street, and followed a story related to him by his daughter, Marie, who will not be 14 years old until June 10 next. According to the girl's story, Hamm lured her to his home several days ago and attempted to molest her. She says that after she screamed several times Hamm unlocked the door of the room into which she says she had been lured and then disappeared. After regaining her composure the girl returned to her home and related what had taken place and subsequently Mr. Hendren signed an affidavit against Hamm, who is well known, and friends say has always borne a splendid reputation. Sergeant Ziegler called at the Hendren home and secured the girl's version of the affair, but has so far been unable to find any trace of Hamm.

Anton Is Exonerated

The complaint in the case of Anton, freemason, filed in Municipal court yesterday on a charge of disorderly conduct as a result of a clash with Patrouille Frazier when at the White Front restaurant, Gallia street, on the night of May 15, was dismissed by Judge Sprague today for lack of convincing evidence. Anton claimed that the officer today, the restaurant and assaulted him without cause or provocation and then arrested him, and the finding of the court was a strong point in favor of the complainant's contention. He was not to blame in any way for the trouble, which was an unprovoked assault on the part of the officer. Anton today indicated that he proposed to appear before the grand jury as a result of the assault made upon him.

DAYTON, O., May 21.—(By the Associated Press)—Lieutenant Harold R. Harris, chief test pilot of McCook Field, in an attempt to capture another combined weight carrying altitude world's record today reached a height of 30,000 feet. Official calibration of Harris' altitude gave him 27,400 feet, a new world record for an airplane carrying 1100 pounds, it was announced later.

SEEK RETURN MATCH.

PARIS, May 20 (By the Associated Press).—The British friends of Epinard, dissatisfied with the result of the race in which the pride of the French turf was defeated by Sir Gallahad, III., have offered to back the son of Badajoz to the extent of a half million francs in a return race against his rival over the same distance and with identical weight conditions with the exception that the race be run on a straightaway course.

They have obtained the consent of Pierre Wertheimer, owner of Epinard, to run his horse in such an event on condition that it take place before June 5, as Epinard will be taken to Ascot about June 10 for the Gold Cup event.

The challenge was forwarded to day to Captain Jefferson Davis Cohn, owner of Sir Gallahad. Mr. Cohn reserved decision pending a consultation with his trainer.

Call Letter Filed In Divorce Appeal Forgery

NEW YORK, May 21.—Two handwriting experts today branded as a forgery a letter filed by Mrs. Eleanor Elaine Lee Harris, with a motion for an appeal of the annulment suit won two months ago by her husband, Harvey D. Harris.

Testifying at a hearing of forgery charges brought by Mr. Harris against his former wife, the experts, Aaron H. Lewis, Albert S. Osborn, agreed that the letter, alleged to have been written by Harris to a "Mrs. Holland" was a clever piece of penmanship, which at first glance appeared genuine.

What gas ought to give—and what this efficient gas does give:

power plus—yet saves 30%

Ten years' engineering tests prove this

Check up on the performance of your motor—and on the yearly cost of gasoline. For here are new facts, brought out by 2 years of engineering tests.

You can have greater power from your motor—greater flexibility—greater driving pleasure. And at the same time you can save 30% of what gas costs you yearly.

Note the chart above. It shows first what gas must do, in your motor. Then it shows what PURUL gas does—as proved by hundreds of tests.

The column of type, at left of chart, tells what the combustible units in gasoline must perform. Because all gas is made up of combustible units. The first 10% of them should give quick starting, the second 10% rapid pickup, the balance solid pulling-power.

Now see how the PURUL performance curve meets each important requirement. That's because PURUL is refined or "built" to give full power in your motor. It possesses the right combustible units.

So it saves 30%

Gasoline that gives real power-performance also reduces general upkeep—and the other way 'round! So

PURUL has been proved to save 30% of yearly gasoline costs. Two years of tests—made on 38 different cars—prove:

That PURUL gives 33% greater mileage. That PURUL burns cleanly—saving 14.2% of gas that usually drips down into crank-case. In this way it saves $2.98 a year in lubricating oil. And through the greater efficiency of oil undiluted, it saves $10.33 a year (average) in general repairs.

The average car consumes 500 gallons of gas a year. So the first two PURUL savings—87½ gallons at 20c—total $17.50. All four show a total yearly saving of $30.81. That is 30% of the gasoline cost for the average car.

Test PURUL power today

Drive for just a few miles and you will see how PURUL performance adds to the responsiveness of your motor. Use it for a year and you will see how it also saves this 30% of what you ordinarily spend for gas.

Make a test today. You can get PURUL at any Pure Oil Service Station, or of any Pure Oil dealer. You'll know them by the pumps painted "Pure Oil blue."

Wherever or whenever you buy PURUL, you will find its performance unvaryingly the same. Greater power with greater economy!

Resumption of Work on Hurth Hotel Will Start Tomorrow

Contractors Taylor and Linn, weather permitting, will resume work on the new Hurth hotel at Third and Chillicothe streets Thursday. The lot was drained Wednesday and final arrangements are completed for the resumption of work tomorrow.

First work to be undertaken will be putting in footings for the foundations, which will then start rising as the temporary wooden findings on the walls of the excavation are removed. Steel for the frame work has been on order, and can be obtained on short notice as quickly as needed, the contractors expect.

Yesterday's meeting failed to fill a vacancy in the directorate, nor was any stockholders' chairman chosen in place of Mr. Albert Marling, full authority to proceed given to the directors, eliminating necessity for the position, it is said.

Court HouseRichardson Files Answer

Answering the divorce and alimony suit of Mollie J. Richardson recently instituted in Common Pleas court, James T. Richardson, grocer, 550 Campbell avenue, admits the marriage in April, 1917, and that he is the owner of real estate, with an approximate value of $20,000 and then denies her charges.

By way of cross-petition filed through Attorney George W. Shepard, Richardson says the plaintiff is a person of violent temper, that she is stubborn and quarrelsome, declaring that she would not speak to him for days at a time, prepare his meals or perform any of her marital duties. Besides, he avers, that at such times she would leave his bed, lock herself in another room and refuse to administer to any of his wants.

Furthermore, Richardson says that on one occasion she attacked him with a mallet and complains that she prefers the company of other persons to him, asserting that she is absent from him when he needs her most, insisting that he stay home while she takes auto rides and enjoys herself with friends and neighbors.

Richardson says that he is now 50 years old, while plaintiff is but 41 and he asks that he be given the divorce and that she be divested of all interest in his property.

An approved entry was filed in the office of the Clerk of Courts today, dismissing the divorce suit of J. W. McCoy against Hester McCoy.

Wife Gets Decree

Estelle M. Smith has been granted a decree divorcing her from William M. Smith, according to an approved entry filed in the office of the Clerk of Courts. The decree was granted on the ground of willful absence.

Wife Granted Divorce

On the ground of cruelty, Rose E. Smith has been divorced from Ross K. Smith and restored to her maiden name of Jones, according to an approved entry filed today in the office of the Clerk of Courts. They were married in October, 1923.

Grand Jury Grindings

Ed. P. Appel was sworn in as foreman of the grand jury impaneled by Judge Thomas for the April term of Common Pleas court, Wednesday morning. Serving with Foreman Appel are: Stewart S. Brierley, Arthur Bode, Fred J. Baker, George H. Bauer, Ralph J. Loft, Walter Bagby, Chris Blair and Charles Schneid-er, of the regular venire, and W. H. Norris, Robert Lanter, Fred Gabler, S. V. Hopkins, J. B. Dever and J. G. Steagall, talesmen, who were chosen to take the places of Herbert L. Fry, William Holland, Dan Cost-ly, John Roth, William Gregory and D. B. Ramsey, excused by the court for various reasons at their own request.

Judge Thomas' charge was brief and the jury at once retired behind closed doors and started their grind. More than eighty witnesses have already been subpoenaed to appear before the probers to give evidence in the two score cases under investigation and Prosecutor Skelton indicated today that from the work to be handled, the inquiry will extend over into the third day which will make it possible for the jury to submit their report to Judge Thomas Friday noon.

Suit On Note

Suit to recover the sum of $132, claimed to be due on a promissory note was brought by Bureau of National Literature, suing through Attorney S. M. Johnson Wednesday in Common Pleas court against A. W. Adams.

Mrs. Brown Files Answer

In answer to the divorce suit of Edna D. Brown, Alma Brown admits the marriage in April 1919, and separation in December 1923, but denies his charges.

By way of cross petition, Mrs. Brown complains of fraud, declaring that she was induced to marry Brown on his representations, that he did not have children, when in truth and fact, she claims, he had four that were to be lived with and cared for by her, besides, she says, Brown frequently has cursed her, called her vile and indecent names, failed and refused to furnish her with a proper home or provide for his children. Through Attorney W. J. Hostetter, the wife accuses Brown with associating with other women and asserts that she has been distressed and humiliated by reason of his improper attentions to his fel-male friends. She further complains that Brown's treatment of her has been cruel, inconsiderate and brutal and she asks for the divorce and for alimony that plaintiff he is vested of her real estate in Porter township.

Authority Granted

Judge Thomas entered an order in Common Pleas court Wednesday granting the city school board authority to transfer $2,000 from the building fund to the contingent fund.

Executrix Named Mrs. Minnie Raynard has been appointed by the probate court as executrix of the estate of her late husband, Fred Raynard, who died November 22, 1920, at his home in Bloom township, leaving property consisting entirely of real estate, with an estimated value of $5,000.

Alleges Cruelty and Neglect

Alleging neglect and cruelty, Myrtle Barrett, suing in the Plase county Common Pleas court at Waverly, through Attorney Leri D. Moore, seeks divorce and alimony, with custody of their minor child, in an action instituted against Jesse Barrett, 425 Fifth street, this city, whom she married in March 1921.

The resolution, providing for future primary elections, was adopted by a vote of 141 to 415.
The convention then adjourned.
The resolution was not adopted, however, without a spirited fight. Speaking on his amendment, Mr. Sabin declared the party must not be put in a position of looking from the people any of their constitutional rights.
"If this is the deliberate expression which this convention wishes us to return, I hope we don't return to it," declared J. J. "Tubby" national grange master, speaking as a delegate from Helmer county.
Gilbert C. Bettman, of Cincinnati, and Ralph D. Cole, of Findlay, urged adoption of the resolution.
Unsettled confusion reigned during debate on the question, Chairman Senator S. D. Fess, being unable to maintain order. A number of speakers were forced to quit because they could not be heard.
Senator Fess in his address accepting the permanent chairmanship urged party loyalty and adopting Hamilton county's slogan, also urged "party responsibility, party solidarity and party regularity."

Under our present primary system he asserted, the party had none of these. The Junior Ohio senator declared party loyalty "sits lightly now in Washington" and referred to the block of Republican Insurgents which prevented the adoption of the Mellon taxation proposal.
He declared the tax proposal as submitted by Secretary Mellon was the soundest taxation plan ever submitted by the greatest secretary of the treasury since Alexander Hamilton.
"There is no way to compensate public opinion outside of party organization," Senator Fess declared.
Former Congressman Ralph D. Cole, of Findlay, urged adoption of the resolution as a means of establishing party responsibility. He declared that the "outstanding political tragedy of America" had been enacted in the senate investigation, which "searched the jails for evidence to defame the character of a dead president."
"Unless we have party responsibility

we are going to have the red flag of Russia instead of the American flag," Cole declared.
Former Governor Davis arising to speak for the first time during the convention, urged adoption of the resolution because it would bring harmony. "I want to see harmony and I believe it now exists," he said.
G. W. Highfield, of Muskingum county, speaking against the resolution, declared that any candidate who received endorsement in the future "would go down to certain defeat."
It is expected that the regular state convention which meets here June 24, will incorporate in the state platform a plank pledging modification of the primary law in accordance with the resolution adopted today by the special convention.
The resolution recommended that the next Republican governor and Republican members of the legislature be instructed to support the plan for modification of the primary law to legalize pre-primary conventions.
President Coolidge received a rousing endorsement in a resolution offered from the floor of the convention. The delegates arose and cheered for some time when the resolution was presented. The president will be officially notified of the convention's action.

No effort was made to have the convention endorse a slate of candidates, the question not being presented; inasmuch as the rules committee had turned the proposition down.
Counties casting their solid vote against the resolution were Athens, Belmont, Carroll, Champaign, Clinton, Columbiana, DeWitt, Greene, Guernsey, Harrison, Jefferson, Mahoning, Medina, Muskingum, Putnam, Trumbull, Washington and Wayne.
The following counties split their vote—Lawrence, 3 yes and 11 no; Licking, 20 yes, and 3 no; Stark, 46 yes, and 1 no; Summit, 50 yes, and 2 no. These counties did not vote: Allen, Anguize, Darke, Genoa, Lake, Mercer, Miami, Noble and Ottawa.

JAKUES CAPSULES

Quick Relief for INDIGESTION

Jakues' Capsules act quicker than pills or tablets. The pure gelatin dissolves quickly, releasing the standard medicines which are granulated, not powdered. For indigestion, dyspepsia, sour stomach, gas or other stomach disorders caused by improper food or over-eating, Jakues' Capsules prove quickest, most effective relief. Only 60 cents at all druggists or postpaid from Jakues Capsule Co., Plattsburg, N. Y.

Mason-Dixon Orchestra Entertains Kiwanians

Thanks to the courtesy of Fred N. Tynes, manager of the Columbia theatre, the Kiwanis Club had as their guests Wednesday at their noon luncheon held at the Mary Louise, Manager Jim Shields and his Mason-Dixon orchestra, one of the finest musical organizations in the entire country, and which is playing a week's engagement at the popular Columbia.

The orchestra, composed wholly of young men, gave a concert that was richly enjoyed by the Kiwanians and fulfilled every expectation and then some. The organization is known throughout the entire country and Manager Tynes is to be congratulated upon having secured it for this entire week. The entertainment furnished by Mr. Shields' orchestra was strictly high class, and should the organization ever visit Portsmouth again they are at perfect liberty to walk right in and seal themselves around the festive board. The orchestra will appear at the week with a change of program the last half. The orchestra will play at 3, 7 and 9. On tomorrow night Manager Tynes will present the first picture of Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., entitled, "Stephen Steps Out." According to Mr. Shields this is a splendid production and the Columbia is expecting capacity business.

At Wednesday's club meeting, J. M. Graham, one of Portsmouth's best known citizens, was initiated into the organization and is proudly wearing the Kiwanian button on his coat lapel. Prof. Parsons, of Wesleyan college, was present, the guest of G. D. Selby, Mr. Eugene Anderson, former Portsmouth citizen, now a resident of Seattle, Wash. was present, the guest of his brother, W. V. Anderson. It is quite likely that fully fifteen members will attend the Inter-City Kiwanis meeting at Cincinnati, next Monday. The affair will be held in the Zoo.

Selby Employees to Enjoy Boat Ride; Athletic Program Off

Unfavorable weather of the past few days has caused a postponement of the plans made by the Selby Shoe Company's Shop Committee for the grand opening of Selco Park, Thursday. Announcement to this effect was posted on the factory clocks today, action being taken in calling off the picnic after a committee visited the park last evening and found the ground too wet for use on Thursday. The factory here and the branch plants in Trenton and Ashland will be closed all day as planned and the free boat ride planned for employees of the local plant and their families will be held as per schedule. Today it was impossible to plan the extent of the boat trip although it is hoped that a trip will be taken that will keep the crowd out for several hours. Such a plan would have the boat return early in the afternoon. These plans are to be worked out with the manager of the boat when the steamer George W. Hill arrives here tomorrow morning. Should the weather permit it is possible that the boat might stop at Selco park for just a short time to give the employees and their families a chance to see the recreation spot provided by the Selby firm. The program planned for the morning and afternoon could not be carried out with the grounds water soaked. The ball field and tennis courts would be too soft for use and the playgrounds for children will be too damp for the young folks. An effort will be made to arrange a program for an opening of the park at a later date.

Tickets for the free trip on the boat were distributed this afternoon by the foremen. The boat will leave promptly at nine o'clock.

POLAND IS AROUSED BY BANDIT ATTACKS

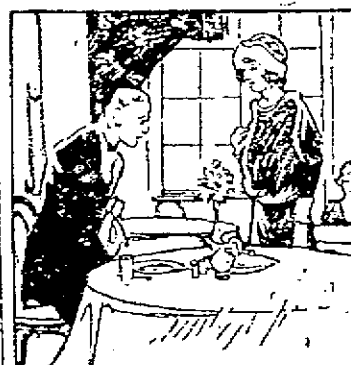

WARSAW, May 21.—(By the Associated Press)—All Poland is aroused in consequence of dispatches from the eastern regions stating that a robber band numbering 100 well armed men two days ago crossed over the Soviet frontier and pillaged the village of Krzywiec, 18 miles from the border, killing or wounding some twenty of the inhabitants, among them the church pastor.

The robbers cut the telephone and telegraph wires and escaped back into Russia. The local post of five policemen defended the village bravely, losing two killed. They inflicted some casualties upon the robbers, who were forced to carry the wounded with them on their return journey.

Reports of attacks by Soviet and Lithuanian bands upon Polish villages have increased monthly. In January there were three, in February 6, March 12, April 26, and for the first half of this month, 20. A report as yet unconfirmed, states that a government commission of investigation which was in Krzywiec during the latest raid, was attacked by the robbers and carried off to Russia.

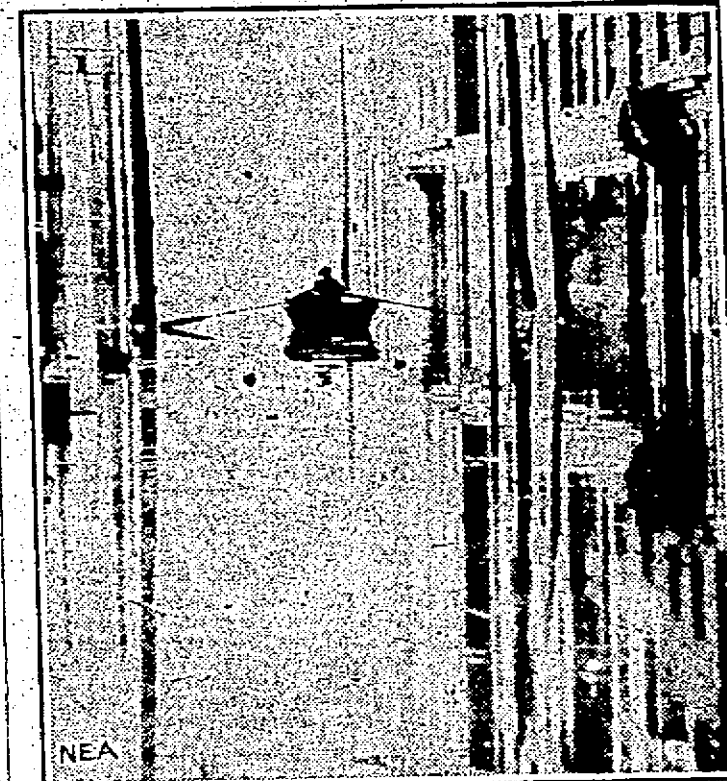

GOOD MANNERS

Gentleman Rises

If any woman addresses a remark to him, a gentleman at once rises to his feet as he answers her. In a restaurant, when a lady bows to him, a gentleman merely makes the gesture of rising by setting his half way from his chair and bowing.

Flivvers Balked, Too

Looks like Venice. But it isn't. It's Pittsburgh. Rowboats superseded automobiles when the Monongahela River overflowed its banks and raced through the streets of the waterfront district. Merchants and warehousemen suffered heavy losses.

Thieves Are Frightened Away

Unidentified thieves last night attempted to effect an entrance to the home of Attorney and Mrs. G. W. Sheppard at 1224 Twenty-First street. Upon their return home they found a side window had been tampered with, the thieves being frightened away before admission could be gained. Footprints near the window indicate that one of the intruders possibly was a woman.

There will be a meeting of the Business and Professional Women's Club at the Mary Louise Friday at 5:30. A large attendance is desired.

No Decision on The World Court Proposal

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 21.—(By the Associated Press)—The senate foreign relations committee devoted two hours today to a general discussion of world court proposals, but adjourned until tomorrow without having reached a decision on any important point. An effort to obtain the committee's immediate endorsement for the proposal of Presidents Harding and Coolidge for membership in the present court with reservations, ended in failure. None of those present would venture more than a "hope" of early action on any of the plans now pending.

Name Receiver for Laundry Co.

John Jones, 528 Second street, Wednesday was appointed by Judge Thomas in Common Pleas court as receiver to take charge of the assets and property of the Economy Laundry company, New Boston, several months ago. The receiver's bond was fixed at $5,000.

The appointment was made on the application of Attorney E. G. Miller on behalf of the plaintiff in the suit brought by Margaret E. Busa, directed against the laundry concern to collect money claimed, to be due on a promissory note and on a claim for rent. William Zoltman, Donald I. Lee and C. H. Krauser were named by the court as appraisers.

BUYING OF RAIL ISSUES STRENGTHENS STOCK MARKET

C. & O. Reaches Highest Level in Ten Years;
N. & W. and Other Coal Carriers Advance

NEW YORK, May 21.—Reports that the senate and house conferees on the tax bill had decided against the graduated tax on corporation surplus and eliminated the publicity feature brought about a brisk rally in today's stock market. The close was strong. Sales approximated $50,000,000 shares.

NEW YORK, May 21.—Stock prices developed an irregular tone at the opening of today's market, reflecting the play of opposing speculative forces for control. Some of the oil shares, including the Standard issues, moved higher along with several copper stocks. Bethlehem led an advance in independent steel shares. Baldwin and Studebaker yielded slightly to selling pressure.

Trading of coal carriers, including Delaware and Hudson, Chesapeake and Ohio, Norfolk and Western and Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron, stimulated an advance in the general market, which was accentuated by short covering in a number of industrials and specialties. Chesapeake and Ohio touched 7 1/2, the highest level in ten years. Delaware and Hudson rose 3 points and gains of 1 to 2 points were registered by DuPont, Republic Steel, Davison Chemical, U. S. Industrial Alcohol, New York Dock, Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron, Colorado Fuel, U. S. Steel, Iron Pipe, Gulf States Steel and Baldwin. Foreign exchanges opened steady.

Steady accumulation of high grade railroad shares had a tonic effect on the rest of the list and prices slowly

Card Game Ends in Row; Knife Used

IRONTON, O., May 20.—(Daily Times Special)—From a card game Tuesday afternoon Perry Davis' next stop was at Marling hospital, with his cheek laid open, and Chester Dalton's last known address as a result of the escape, is Ashland, Ky.

The two and two others had gathered at the home of Andrew Dove, Coal Grove. A card game was in progress, during the course of which Davis accused Dalton of stealing a card from the deck.

Davis struck at Dalton several times, and Dalton resorted to use of his knife, with a single slash cutting open his opponent's left cheek, severing the facial nerve and puncturing the ear drum, it is claimed. Davis may lose his hearing in the ear as a result, and is being cared for at the Marling hospital because of the amount of blood he lost. He is a West Virginia coal miner.

Dalton is from Mattyville, this county. As sheriff Dement arrived at the home to investigate the incident, almost as quickly as it happened, Dalton was leaping to the deck of the ferry as it pulled away from the shore. He was last seen in Ashland.

THE WISDOM OF THE OATH

WE recall that when we heard the first oath administered to a witness we marveled why he should bind himself to depose to "the truth, the whole truth, and nothing else but the truth." It was rather in our mind that if he were obligated to tell the truth that would be sufficient. Experience convinces us there is much wisdom in obligating for the whole truth. Indeed a great perplexity of our right now is that we get the truth but not the whole truth in most of the world's news.

Take, for instance, the case of Germany. Sympathy was aroused, to some extent, at least, by reports that destitution and starvation were prevalent in the nation, and by a flood of appeals for relief that were poured into this country—to our desk came within the week, appeals for such relief from Germany (2), New York (3), Holland (1). Between lines we may say we threw them all in the waste basket because they bred a suspicion we were being "worked." For last winter we got a peculiarly pathetic request to aid some orphans and being one of us far back as memory runs, it opened both our sympathy and our pocket-book and we sent over a remittance, that wasn't much, as charity goes in the country, and yet sufficient, if applied as promised, to make more than one little Teutonic stomach swell with unwonted plenty. When the inundation of appeals came it aroused a suspicion that our name was being passed down the line as a noble E. M., which being translated, means Easy Mark.

But we wander far from our text so back to it. On the heels of a report of want widespread in Germany came a rather circumstantial account of hordes of Germans that were descending upon Italy, assuaging to participate in the pleasures and luxuries of the Riviera. We confess, that looked a trifle suspicious too, it being put in such quick juxtaposition to the other tale. As if to confirm that suspicion we read, in the New York Tribune, a letter from an American woman, who has just returned from Italy. Whether or not she is artfully contradicting the second story, or casually relating an incident of her trip, we can not say, but she relates that one of her experiences was meeting with many Germans, once well to do, who had left their own land to sojourn in Italy because living was much cheaper in the latter country.

Here then, in the matter of Germans going to Italy, if we consider both versions, we have, in the first instance, the truth, which is only the half truth, and, therefore, the worst sort of a lie, and in the second, the whole truth, which gives us the actual facts.

Speaking generally, it is not at all improbable, it is altogether likely that much poverty and suffering do exist in Germany. The war drained her to the point of exhaustion, through death or wounding she lost millions of bread earners. Doubly handicapped by confusion in internal affairs she can not have recovered from all visitations within the short period of six years and less. Strict prudence, however, should go with any relief that the charitable may be moved to extend her. American generosity has become so famed, that hordes of greedy rascals are ever waiting to prey upon it.

A POLICEMAN'S RECORD

FOR nearly twenty years Charles Flowers was a member of the Portsmouth police force and there is this to be said of him—he was never the kind of a man to shirk his duty. When called upon to go anywhere, to face danger in making arrests, Flowers did not hesitate. He was right out in front. In the main, too, he made a good, intelligent officer. All this is to be remembered to his credit. Whether or not he took a little nap the other night, we do not know. The drastic action of the police chief, however, does lead to the suspicion that there was more back of the summary dismissal of Flowers from the force than the alleged transgression of police rules. What that something is, the public would be mightily interested in knowing, whether it be police politics, general politics, grudges, or something else.

All good feelings should be expressed. Most of them arrive as if sent by freight.

THE OAK HILL ROAD

WE are at a loss to understand why the county commissioners have allowed the road to Oak Hill by way of South Webster to go to pieces the way they have. Our best information is that the road is in a deplorable condition from the end of the paving to the Lawrence county stretch and that it is being neglected. In this connection it should be borne in mind that a tremendous trade comes down this road to Portsmouth. It has been coming to us for fifty years and the residents there want to continue coming to Portsmouth. They will not come in the future if they cannot travel over decent roads. They will go to Chillicothe, towards which city they have a good road. Or they will go on to Columbus.

It is time for Portsmouth business people to awaken to this fact. It is time they make their knowledge known to the county officers in charge of county roads. And it is also time for the county officers to look after their manifest duties.

NEW YORK DAY-BY-DAY

BY O. O. MCINTYRE

NEW YORK, May 21.—Gotham is waited anxiously in the hospital anteroom. Nurses and internes attend him from time to time to tell him all was well. But his nervousness increased and finally in desperation he went to the attending doctor and demanded to know if everything was all right. "Young man," said the doctor, "your worry is useless. I have officiated at 8,000 obituary cases and I have never lost a father."

There are thousands who would be happier in peaceful Jersey than in the big city. They know they can cash in on the aristocratic address. The appearance of success begets success.

It is told of a man who wanted to interest a big financier in a promotion scheme. He was flying light financially. He borrowed the luxurious apartment of a friend for an evening. There were butlers and assistant butlers.

He invited the financier for dinner and afterward over coffee in the drawing room he put over his deal. He had made an impression by the false show of prosperity. New York thrills to petty vanity. It takes Morgan or a Rockefeller to wear buggy trousers.

An outward show of opulence here often pays dividends. That is why New York is the best dressed city in the world. It accounts for the crowds and the valet.

A young lawyer on a salary for a successful legal firm came suddenly into a small fortune of $5,000. He had been nothing more than a legal clerk, but he took a slice of his fortune and paid a month's rent for the finest suite in midtown.

Business boomed from the start. He joined with two partners and in six months was making more in a week than he had made in a year before. He did not have the background of successful legal accomplishment. The illusion of prosperity, did the trick.

A New York magazine editor recently became a proud father. On the night of the baby's arrival he

The Young May Moon
The young May moon is beaming love.
The glow-worm's lamp is gleaming love!

How sweet to rove
Through Morna's grove
When the drowsy world is dreaming love!

Then awake! — the heavens look bright,
My dear,
'Tis never too late for delight, my dear!

And the best of all ways
To lengthen our days
Is to steal a few hours from the night, my dear!

Now all the world is sleeping, love,
But the Sage, his star-watch keeping, love,
And I whose star
Is the eye from that censement peeping, love,

Then awake! — all rise the sun, my dear,
The Sage's glass well shun, my dear,
On watching the flight
Of bodies of light
He might happen to take thee for one, my dear!

Do You Agree?

John—I say, Harry, which is of the most valuable, twenty quarters or a five-dollar bill?

Harry—Why, twenty quarters, of course.

John—Wrong! The five-dollar bill is the most valuable, because when you place it in your pocket you double it and when you take it out again you find it in creases (increases)—Boy's Life.

In order to make their campaign promises good, a certain administration in Powder City began a half-hearted attempt to bring one of their numerous lawless gangs to justice. The prosecuting attorney became unduly enthusiastic and things got altogether too hot.

Said one member of the gang who

"Yep," was the answer. "The lawyers was a-gittin' him rattled, so we just had to shoot him."

Husband: "Not exactly without warning. She told me this morning I had better bring home some dyspepsia tablets, but I did not quite understand what she meant."
